What is Going On Tonight.

Overstreet Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F. meets at 8:30 Main street.

Y. D. Veterans meet at the hall on Pleasant street.

Interest in the annual town election takes place this city Monday.

October 8, centers around the men running for town tax collector, Frank A. Bartlett, on the republican ticket and has held the office for several terms and has filled its requirements with ability.

At the town elections in previous years Mr. Bartlett has swept the opposition aside and has piled up more votes than other candidates on the ticket.

This year the democratic party has nominated James J. Lee, considered one of the strongest candidates they could send into the field because of his service record. Aside from these two candidates there seemed to be little interest in the outcome of the election. The voters made this year for an off year and as this will be their first change of vote each party has been active trying to find the number that may be counted upon to boost its ticket.

According to the present outlook the vote will be heavy as every voter is expected to register his decision especially on the contest for tax collector.

When the All-Stars play their game with the New London Independents this coming Sunday it will not mark the end of the season, as Manager McQuillan has secured the fast Polk team of Hartford for the final game.

In the coming game the All-Stars who have been forced to bow to the New Londoners twice this season will be out for blood. Ford Lowe and Flaherty will play with the locals and will appear in the Polk game.

The first weekly report of the bureau of preventable diseases, Connecticut Department of Health, for the coming Sunday it will not mark the end of the season, as Manager McQuillan has secured the fast Polk team of Hartford for the final game.

According to the baseball dope in this city, Cincinnati is due to win the series. The result of yesterday's game of course has nothing to do with the dope but one wonders why the betting is now at even money in the city when it was at odds of five to four in favor of the White Sox before the first game. Several stores in the city had put up bulletin boards and passing crowds were able to follow the game. The result of the game was left so hopelessly in the rear that all interest in the game was lost. However, there are plenty of White Sox fans in the city who have faith that their dope on the final outcome of the series will be right.

Under the direction of "Buck" Donahue, the football squad of the Windham High school were put through a stiff practice Wednesday afternoon in the game. The result of the game, which is now at even money, only can be looked for to make successful runs and a line plunge or two when necessary to gain the needed yards. The first team has not been picked for the coming game and until the boys have been tried out in a game every man on the squad will have a chance to make his letter.

Physical Director C. A. Sampson has been busy at the Y since his arrival in this city and announced on Wednesday evening that the gym classes would start on Thursday, Oct. 3. The classes would be held in the department of the Y which has been closed during the past few weeks will also be opened for the fall season and the members would be able to enjoy the privileges as usual.

The orchestra which consists of 15 pieces has recently returned from France where they have been playing at the front lines and in Paris. They are covering the state giving concerts lasting one hour and followed by a dance from 9 until 12 p. m.
